

THE ART OF WHY

Contract with Myself

Today, _____, I make the commitment to master my WHY.

(Date)

Starting on _____, I begin my journey _____.

(Date)

I, _____ acknowledge where I am right now in regard to my WHY and I commit to the steps that will be part of my journey. I acknowledge that the journey is just as valuable as the destination and therefore, the journey requires a generous investment of time, patience, persistence and possibly money.

(Name)

I pledge to make the investment in my WHY in order to truly master it and live a life that is centered on my purpose. Today, with my "mirror" as my witness, I pledge to make my life a work of art, molding it into one that is authentic and truly satisfying to me even at times where I want to give up. I acknowledge that my "mirror" will at times bring my feet back to the ground but all in efforts to help me and push me to where I need to be. I know that patience and persistence are key. I know that self-awareness is first and foremost, but it will not limit me to pursue my WHY.

I understand that I can't do this alone. I will welcome the help of people. I will humble myself to ask for advice from those I admire, and those who have mastered their WHY in order to learn, grow and build a team of support.

Signed on _____ at _____ hour, with _____ and God as my witness ("mirror") and myself, the pursuer of the journey to master my WHY.
